WEBB-KENYON ACT

Supreme Court Holds Valid, Law Barring Liquor From Dry States.

The Webb-Kenyon law, designed to prevent the shipment of liquor from a wet to a dry territory, was Monday declared valid by the Supreme Court of the United States by a vote of 7 to 2. This is another blow at red liquor —another victory for the "drys."

The purpose of the act, as pointed out by the Chief Justice in announcing the decision of the court, was to cut out by the roots the practice of permitting violation of state liquor laws. Congress, the court said, had complete power to prevent the paralyzing of state authorities.

The far-reaching consequence of this decision is quite apparent. No longer can a wet State, under cover of the commerce clause of the federal constitution, ship liquor into a dry state in violation of the laws of the latter. The law even goes further. It says that no liquor shall be shipped from a wet to a dry territory. This means that no state, other than Kentucky can ship liquor into Knox county in violation of the laws of this county. It means that if Kentucky goes dry the imbibers of this state shall be unable to ship liquor from a foreign territory without subjecting themselves to the penalty of the act.

Well Drilling on Indian Creek.

The largest and best outfit that has come to this county lately was brought here by Messrs. Kennedy, McDermott & Farmer last week and is now being set up on the farm of John A. Campbell on Indian Creek. This looks to be one of the best locations to be found as it is in close proximity with the large and extensive coal fields of the North Jellico Coal Company's mines, and in a place where it looks, from the formation of the surface, that there surely is oil in great abundance.

The machinery is of the very latest and best design and from its size it looks as though they could go down several hundred feet in the earth.

There are other machines being brought into the field and it now looks as though there is to be a real oil boom. Mr. Wrenn, of the Central Oil Co. of Kentucky, is getting down to business and several other companies are getting ready to begin operations. Several thousand acres of land have already been leased and yet there are thousands of acres not yet leased.

The oil is here. It has been found before in paying quantities, and it is believed the field here is as rich as the fields in Estill County.

Y.M.C.A. 29, E.K.S.N 28

The local basket ball team of this place went to Richmond on the 8th and took the Eastern Kentucky State Normal basket ball team for a two round battle on their home court. The contest was very interesting from the start, but when the smoke cleared away after the second half it was discovered that the Barbourville Y. M. C. A. had won the game by a score of 29 to 28.

The Normal quintett started with a rush and led through the first half by a score of 17 to 10. In the second half the Barbourville boys, with a big lead to overcome, started in real earnest to win the game and by exceedingly fast work overcame the lead of their opponents and took the lead and maintained it throughout the remainder of the contest.

Simms, at center, Lambdin and Jarvis, forwards, starred for the Barbourville team, while Anderson, center, and Hembree, forward, starred for the Normal.

The line-up follows:

Y. M. C. A. E. K. S. N.

Simms C. Anderson

Lambdin F. Hembree

Jarvis F. Sandlin

Jones G. Kilburn

McDonald G. Perkins

Substitutes: Barbourville, Russ Faulkner for Jones, Jones for Simms. Richmond, none.

Referee, J. Faulkner, Barbourville.

Umpire, Gentry, Richmond. The sensation of the game was the dribble of Simms across the entire court, throwing goal.

The Barbourville team is among the best to be found in the state, having won every game this season.

Eastern Kentucky to Get National Aid for Roads.

Last week Senator B. C. Lewis and Judge Thomas G. Hammons attended the Good Roads Convention at Frankfort, and in a speech Senator Lewis asked that the people of Eastern Kentucky be given all the National road aid possible. All present from the Northern portion of the State agreed and suggested that Senator Lewis' request be granted. They said they could get along without the National aid and that it be given to this end of the State. It is said this was agreed to and we will receive practically the whole amount given the State under the act of Congress. This is certainly a great help in this time of need and Senator Lewis should be given a vote of thanks for his effort and success in this matter.

Feed The Birds

Last Wednesday W. A. Hinkle the Game Warden for Knox County, received the following telegram:

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 17, 1917.

W. A. Hinkle, Barbourville, Ky.

Make every effort to feed the quail; telephone every hunter to feed birds at once, also appeal to farmers for help, buy grain, and send bill to Frankfort, feed as long as ground is covered, have notice put in county paper and organize your district for feeding

at once.

J. Quincy Ward, Warden.

Let every man throw out something to support these most valuable pets, and not only that, the song birds should be fed and they will eat just any kind of refuse,

let them have some of the crumbs that you would otherwise throw in the sewer, let's stand by the Game Wardens, and try to perpetuate these most valuable gift,

the song birds.

FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK

To the Voters of Knox County:

After giving the matter proper consideration and at the solicitation of friends throughout the county, I wish to announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for County Court Clerk, primary August 4, 1917.

It was not my intention to announce my candidacy so early but a large number of my friends are urging me to get myself before the voters in order that I may have the proper consideration with the other applicants.

In making this announcement I wish to say to the voters that I am a Republican, ready and willing at all times to work for the cause of the party. Neither my people nor myself have ever held an office in this or any other county.

I am a friend to labor organizations, a man who has worked on the farm, the lumber yard, the planing mill, the brick yard, and the mortar box, in the store and in the printing office in order to secure an education that I might be competent to do such work as the future holds for me.

I am aware of the vast importance of this office, and I promise if elected to be on the job ready and willing at all times to serve the people with such duties that may be required.

I ask the voters to inquire after me as to my character, morals and ability which enables me to fill the office with credit, and if found to be true, I earnestly solicit your support.

At my earliest convenience, or before August 4th, I expect to call on all the voters in the county and lay my claim before them personally.

Thanking you in advance for your support in this race, I remain, Respt. yours,

BEN H. GREGORY.

A Remunerative Refereeship

Mr. Hughes, returning to the practice of the law, has received his first case—an appointment as referee in the matter of a contested will. The pay for such services is $20 an hour, which is about two and half times as much as the salary of the President of the United States. The difference is that the President's salary runs on during each of the twenty-four hours of the day, it being, as Private John Allen used to say of his Congressional stipend, "Powerful reg'lar".

If President Wilson is not an Anninian all this talk about the high cost of food stuff being caused by the European war is bosh. The blame lies on the devilish "middleman" says Wilson.

The middleman gets between us and the low cost of living that Wilson's psychological prosperity wave promised us and grabs it by the tail and hikes towards the sky. And when the grub Wilson pledged us would come to us so low that we would have to do our cooking in the basement, reaches the ultimate consumer, we have to eat steak in an airship, milk the cow while she is jumping over the moon, and do our cooking on "Mountain Range". Eggs are so high that the old hens are laying them on the fly. Baseball players have quit the diamond and gone into the egg catching business. Beef has soared until the railroads are now putting the "cow-catchers" on top of their smoke stacks. Pork is so "cheap" the hogs have all gone to the trees to roost, where they sing bass in the bird choir. Potatoes have gone up so that by next year the farmers will find them growing on trees. Hotels will soon be serving meals on the roof to keep pace with the high cost of living. Coal has gone so far above the clouds that the smoke has to be raked off the face of the moon before it can shine. Where once the people kept their groceries in the ice box and pantry, they now store them in the safety deposit vaults of the banks. Men able to own a dozen eggs are required to pay income tax, and the working man, whose raise in wages is by no means commensurate with the increasing cost of foodstuffs, has to content himself with the assurance that the middleman, like Sappho, did it.

Now, all we have to say is that if the people stand for this much longer, they deserve all that is coming to them. If the middle man is solely responsible, and Wilson says so, then let every man get busy and demand of his congressman that the middleman get from between them. Let every congressman distinctly understand that party pledges must be fulfilled.

If the American people would get busy the outrageous robbery of the American working people would be stopped within forty-eight hours. There is neither reason nor righteousness in the present exorbitant hold up in American foodstuffs, and some one with a cankered soul and an un pitying heart is to blame. And we say, crowd the eternal day lights out of the guilty wretch, whoever he is, if they have to take a four years o'leum club as a mild means of persuasion to do so.

Just think of the many thousands of men and women of our own proud America, who have to continue at the same old job they had before the raise came about, and that at the same rate of wages they were receiving when it did come, who are today living, or rather trying to subsist, on the same amount of wages and paying four times as much as they did for what they are compelled to have to get thru life.

It is time that we wake up.

Should Knox County Have Two Candidates For Circuit Judge?

This is none of our business, except as the publisher of a newspaper, it is our duty to publish facts and items of interest to the people.

Since the announcement of the two candidates for Circuit Judge in this county, a large number of people have said to us, Knox County ought to have only one candidate, and in response to this sentiment or wish of the people, "Ye Editor" is venturing to give a few observations.

First, when two persons undertake to ride the same horse one of them must ride behind. There is only room in the Judges chair for one. If the two boys run on both cannot be elected and the two running might result in neither being elected.

The one to be elected will only fill out the unexpired term of Judge Sampson. Knox County was given the judges place for this term without opposition.

Whitley County asked for and received the Commonwealth Attorney's office without opposition from Knox County.

Whitey, already having the Commonwealth Attorney, now seeks to take from us the Judge also and thus have both officers of this Judicial District, and while we recognize that qualifications should be the criterion, and not location, yet if Knox County offers a man as well qualified as Whitley and Whitey, having the Commonwealth Attorney, we feel that Knox County should have the preference.

Now boys, since both of you cannot be elected, why not settle this between yourselves, or if you cannot, let your friends do it for you. What Knox County wants is the strongest and best qualified man to make this race without home opposition or a division of forces.

Buffalo Bill Dead

Col. W. F. Cody, known as "Buffalo Bill" died at his sister's home in the city of Denver last week and all the daily papers of the country heralded it and announced that the last words of the Western Scout was that the Masons and Elks should say the last sad words over his remains.

Col. Cody, it appears, was not a member of any church and did not choose to attach himself to any, though it was pain to be seen that he was a protestant.

As soon as he had been told the end was near he made arrangements to wind up his affair, except that he did not attach himself to the church. After he had become unconscious and knew nothing about anything that was being done or said, a man with his collar on backward and a little water in some kind of a silver container, came in like the snake that slimed itself into Eden, while the man was in the three

In the language of one of our ablest writers we might say, "He is fallen, we now pause before that splendid prodigy like some ruined tower, whose power terrified the glance its magnificence attracted, grand gloomy and peculiar." He was the master of the high seas, in him all that it took to make one powerful and far seeing, it was he that sent the Spanish fleet to the bottom of Manila Bay, it was he that made our fleet victorious in the year of 1898. He was a student under Faragut, and helped to run the blockade at New Orleans and Vicksburg, it was he that did much to keep these United States upon the map of the world and the flag of this proud Nation in the air, and to make it possible that we might become and remain the proudest Nation under the sun.

In his death the nation bows with reverence, and submits to the will of him that doeth all things well; but his place will be hard to fill. He was not a dictator but an advisor, whose experience and knowledge made him the most valuable asset to our army and navy department. Now the question is, who will or who can take his place?

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burdens Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Barbourville women. Read what Mrs. Jarvis says:

Mrs. W. S. Jarvis, School St., Barbourville, says: "My kidney's were out of order and my back was weak and lame and ached constantly. I tired easily, especially in the morning and it was an effort for me to do my housework. I had nervous, dizzy headaches and my feet and ankles were swollen. My kidneys acted irregularly and were disordered. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought them from the Costellow Drug Co. They helped me by strengthening my back and regulating the action on my kidneys, making me feel better in every way."

of death and undertook to take him into his church without his consent and in all likelihood against his will.

He was brought to the State House where his body lay in state for four hours, there to be viewed by his admirers, and then taken to the Elks home where religious services were held. It is stated that his body will be laid in its last resting place in a tomb hewn in a solid rock, on the top of a summit near the city, by the Masonic fraternity, some time next summer.

It is strange indeed that these people, who drag people into their church, would not at least see the man and get his consent, rather than go when he knows nothing about it, sprinkle a little water on him, then make it appear to his family that they can save him in this manner, praying his soul out of purgatory, when reason as well as the Holy Bible itself is plain that no man has that power, that God alone can do these things.

Admiral Dewey Dead

At 5:56 o'clock Tuesday January 16, came the close of the career of George Dewey, and the flags of all Nations upon all battleships were lowered to half mast.

In this issue we have the announcement of Mr. B. H. Gregory for the Republican nomination for the office of County Court Clerk. Mr. Gregory is a young man and belongs to a good family of Republicans. While he is young in the political world he made several speeches last fall for the ticket and did all he could for the advancement of the Republican cause. He is a son of James A. Gregory, who for some time lived on Fighting Creek.

Ben as he is commonly known is a good boy, strictly sober, and comes with his hat already in the ring and says he is in the fight until the 4th day of August at 4:00 P. M.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of J. E. Sowders of Artemus, Ky. for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff subject to the action of the voters of Knox County at the primary to be held Aug. 4, 1917.

Mr. Sowders is a Republican, and has always stood up for the principles of the party. He is a farmer, and a business man. He is of one of the most honored families, and he himself is a man that has no enemies.

He says that he is in this race with the intention of winning, and that he will lose no time in seeing every voter in the county if possible.

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardul, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardul, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardul for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardul today.

Mr. James L. Westerfield, candidate for sheriff, was here from Warren last Monday and called at this office, he says that everything is looking good to him.

There was a wedding we are told, the other day that is being kept a secret, we are not going to tell who it is now, but if they don't tell it right soon we will.

It is thought that Senator Lewis and Representative Bays will receive a call to come to Frankfort on the first Tuesday in next month to look over the new tax laws. They should be very particular to read and re-read it before casting their vote.

There was a shooting match on a train in Perry county the other day just as they entered a tunnel after they had gotten out of the darkness and the smoke had cleared away it was found that two were dead, three wounded and several were badly frightened.

The Cumberland and Manchester Railroad has changed its schedule, so that you don't have to get up so soon to get to the train for Manchester, it leaves now at 7:00 in the morning, and returns at 11:20 and leaves again at 2:04 and return at 6:24 so that it is now a daylight train both ways on all trains.

Well, we suppose we will have to try to explain that we have slipped another cog, and that the announcement of the said Campbell will not appear for some time as he has tried all the cameras in this end of the state to get a photo, and none of them has, up to this time, made that kind of a picture that he would like to have a cut made from.

There are some fellows running for office who have had their announcements made in the Advocate who have not paid us, we are not going to call names this week, but they ought to pay at once and save us having to do this.

We cannot carry accounts of this kind, as paper is high and hard to get at any price, and ink cost as high as $8.00 a pound and we will have to have the support of the people or go out of business.

Short Skirts Grounds For Divorce, Kansas City Judge Declares.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 7.—The skirts of a married woman must not rise—on the public streets at least—above her shoe tops. No less authority than the Circuit Court has so decided.

Husbands, whose wives display for the errant eyes of passers-by a space of hosiery beneath the lower hem of dress or suit or coat, may hereafter seek divorce with reasonable chance of success. And when these expanses of hosiery measures two inches or more, shame, says the Circuit Court.

When Mrs. Rose Cuff sued William P. Cuff for divorce, she charged various shortcomings. Her husband replied by charging short skirts. The husband got the decree.

Sam Lewis a Candidate

Sam L. Lewis is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for Jailor of Knox County. Though he has not announced yet, he told the Advocate man that he would do so within the next week or two and begin an active campaign. He says his prospects are most encouraging.

For Jailor.

To the Voters of Knox County. After having fully considered the matter, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Jailor of Knox County, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary to be held August 4, 1917. I have always been a Republican and believe in its principles; and have always done all I could for its nominees. I have never asked for an office, but I feel that this is my opportunity, and I come asking your support, promising that if elected, I will do all in my power to make you a good and faithful officer, doing my full duty without favor or affection.

Everybody welcome.
S. C. Williams, Pastor.
P. S.—We will have heat, and church will be comfortable.

Another one Heard From

Sometime ago we said that the office of County Surveyor had gone by the way, but we now hasten to retract it and tell the readers of the Advocate that there is a real man running for that office. Thomas Hubbard, who served the County for some time as County Road Engineer, was in this office this week and told us that his hat was in the ring, and that he was in the race to win. There is now a candidate for every office to be filled at the November election.

Grape Juice and Government Income

Serious debate has not yet opened on Mr. Bryan's proposal to commit the Democrats to national prohibition as an issue in 1920. When the discussion begins special emphasis will no doubt be laid on the fact that the internal revenue receipts from the liquor business now net the Federal Treasury about $250,000,000 a year, while import duties on wines and other alcoholic beverages produce about $20,000,000 more. Cutting off revenue, however, with no idea of how to make it up, while maintaining expenditures on a scale of unprecedented profligacy, is a Democratic specialty; and it will not trouble Mr. Bryan at all when this problem is raised.

Very truly yours,
J. E. SOWDERS.

Russia Returns

Present Peace

The declaration of the new Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, speaking, as he says by the full authority of the Czar, and this followed by a unanimous vote of the Russian Duma in opposition to considering the question of peace in Europe may be regarded as conclusive in the premises. Russia has more to lose at present, more to gain by ultimate success and less to risk at any period than any of the other Entente Powers. She also holds a commanding position in the essential element which will win the war-man-power and untouched natural resources and authority to command both without recourse to parliamentary processes.

Moreover, Russia's participation in the war was begun, not so much from considerations of territorial acquisition as from the promptings of the most fanatical of human emotions, that based upon religion. The menace of Austria upon Serbia aroused Holy Russia, the strongest of the States adhering to the Greek Orthodox faith, the protector of that form of worship against Mohammedan aggression, and the big brother of all the Slavic Balkan peoples who bow to the Cross of St. Andrew. With a definite promise of Constantinople, Russia, from a standpoint, cannot now yield; especially upon terms which would at the same time deprive her of access to Southern waters and shut her off from the Baltic through the creation of an independent Poland and Lithuania. Peace cannot be made without Russia. The Pact of London prevents that. And Russia is unyielding.

I, a Southern Gentleman, am Named

Well, way back in 1901, after I had been in this bright, happy world for several days, I began to get worried like. I didn't have any name.

Folks were calling me "it" and "the new one" and "whatacallit." I didn't like it a bit. Then one day I heard the Big Chief telephoning all his department heads to meet in his office.

Pretty soon they all came filing in. Tall chaps, short chaps, fat chaps and skinny chaps. "Now that he is here," said the Big Chief, "what will you name him?"

My! how they wrangled and wrangled

*The Folks of the South KNOW good blood.
The Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco.*

SOVEREIGN—the best—is none too good a name." So I was named, friend, for I want you as one of my friends, and it means a whole heap when I say—

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.
